EDUCATION

- Ph.D., University of Washington, Seattle, WA, 2016 (C.E. Torgersen and J.J. Lawler)
- M.S., University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, IN, 1998 (G.A. Lamberti)
- B.S., Ohio State University, Columbus, OH, 1994 (J.E. Garvey, R.A. Stein)

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- Fisheries Research Biologist. July 2002 to present. Northwest Fisheries Science Center, NOAA Fisheries, Seattle, WA
- Aquatic Biologist. June 1998 to May 2002. Nongame and Endangered Wildlife Program, North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission, Raleigh, NC
- Research Assistant. June 1994 to July 1995. Aquatic Ecology Laboratory, Ohio State University, Columbus, OH

RESEARCH INTERESTS: My research interests include thermal diversity in streams and the effect of climate change on Pacific salmon and aquatic systems; the spatial structure of aquatic populations, especially those living in stream networks; the relationship between spatio-temporal scale and ecological patterns and processes; the influence of nonindigenous species on native aquatic fauna; and ways that science can contribute to improved decision-making.

AWARDS & HONORS

- Western Division AFS, Eugene Maughan Graduate Student Scholarship, 2013
- NOAA Advanced Studies Program Fellowship, 2010-2012
- Best PhD proposal, School of Environ. & Forestry Sciences, U. Washington, 2010
- Spot awards from NOAA for work related to salmon recovery planning, 2002-2011
- NSF Graduate Research Traineeship, University of Notre Dame, 1995-1998
- NSF Research Experience for Undergraduates, Ohio State University, 1994-1995

RECENT SERVICE

- Co-organized a special session entitled “Rapid changes in water temperature: quantifying, understanding, and managing heterogeneity in freshwater thermal regimes over space and time” at the Joint Aquatic Sciences Meeting (Portland), spring 2013
- Participated in a career panel for students considering alternative career pathways, Joint Aquatic Sciences Meeting, Portland, spring 2014
- Member of a technical advisory group on riparian science for Washington Department of Fish & Wildlife’s Priority Habitat and Species Program.
- Organized special sessions on the influence of humans on aquatic connectivity for the 2011 annual meetings of (1) the US Chapter of the International Association for Landscape Ecology (Portland), and (2) the American Fisheries Society (Seattle)
- Co-chair for the seminar series at the Northwest Fisheries Science Center, spring 2011
- American Fisheries Society Service: (1) member of annual planning committee for Seattle 2011; (2) WA-BC ad-hoc committee, (3) session moderator at annual conferences
- Guest lectures to regional universities on landscape ecology and salmon recovery
- Hosted two visiting scientists from Austria, 2011
- Mentored interns via the NOAA Hollings Scholar program, University of Washington, and Western Washington University
- Outreach activities to promote science education in the general public (especially kids)
- Review of manuscripts for scientific journals (Aquatic Conservation: Marine and Freshwater Ecosystems, Biological Invasions; BioScience; Canadian Journal of Fisheries and Aquatic Sciences; Conservation Biology; Conservation Letters; Ecology; Ecology of Freshwater Fish; Ecological Indicators, Endangered Species Research; Environmental Management; Environmental Society and Policy; Fisheries, Freshwater Biology; Geomorphology; Hydrobiologia; Journal of Applied Ecology; Journal of Environmental Management; Journal of Freshwater Ecology; Landscape Ecology; North American Journal of Fisheries Management; Northwest Science; Oikos; PLoS One; River Research and Applications; Science Signalling; Transactions of the American Fisheries Society)
